WASHINGTON.

Miller to Open Debate on the Chinese Bill Tuesday.

SAN CARLOS INDIANS GETTING UNEASY

Indictment of Straw-Bond Sureties—Appropriation Bill Passed—Cannon-Campbell Case Disposed of.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The Senate this afternoon, by a vote of thirty against sixteen, took up the Chinese bill and then went into executive session, leaving it as unfinished business. The bill was taken up on motion of Miller, supported by a forcible appeal from Farley, in spite of the attempt made by Bayard to obtain precedence for the Tariff Commission bill. The Senate then adjourned till Monday. The session then will be merely formal on account of the Garfield Memorial service. Tuesday Miller will open debate on the Chinese bill, and it is expected to reach a vote by Wednesday. It has been decided to close all the Executive Departments at 11 o'clock on Monday in honor of the Garfield Memorial exercises.

OCEAN MAIL.

The House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads agreed to report to the House for passage an ocean fast mail transportation bill.

REMAINDER OF THE SALARY.

PRESIDENT POLK'S WIDOW.

RETIREMENT BILL.

In the House Henderson, of Illinois, asked unanimous consent to have the Senate bill, placing General Grant upon the retired list, taken from the Speaker's table and referred to the Committee on Millitary Affairs. Objected.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Reed, from the Committee on Rules, reported a resolution for a select committee of nine to consider all questions relative to woman's rights.

STRAW-BOND POSTAL SURETIES INDICTED

Last evening the Grand Jury handed the District Attorney twenty presentments in the Postoffice straw-bond cases, as follows: Two for perjury against John M. Minnix and Charles H. Dickson; two for perjury against W. S. Barriger; one for perjury against E. J. Scoveen; one for conspiracy against Kate M. Armstrong, James M. Donohue and W. W. Jackson; four for conspiracy against Samuel G. Covell, James W. Donohue, Charles Dickson and J. M. Minnix; four for conspiracy against Albert E. Boone, Alvin O. Burke, Wm. S. Barringer, E. J. Sweet and Samuel G. Covill; and one for conspiracy against Jos. G. Henderson and others.

TROUBLE APPREHENDED.

Tiffany, of the San Carlos Agency, telegraphs to the Indian Bureau that the Indians at the agency are uneasy and excited in connection with the approaching execution of the three condemned Indian scouts, fixed for the 3d of March. He says the other Indian prisoners are complaining of their long confinement without trial, and assert that they surrendered under the pledge of a speedy and fair trial, and of being furnished good counsel. Tiffany earnestly recommends the President to postpone the execution of these scouts until the cases against the other Indian prisoners, arrested for complicity in the treachery for which these scouts were condemned, are decided. Tiffany evidently apprehends trouble if the execution is carried out, and says that the inhabitants in the vicinity all fear trouble with the Indians unless the execution is postponed. As the War Department has control of these condemned scouts and the other prisoners arrested with them, Tiffany's dispatch was sent to the Secretary of War, by whom it will be submitted to the President.

THE GARFIELD MEMORIAL.

Gen. Howard arrived this morning. Gen. Sheridan and Gen. Hancock are expected this evening. They come by the special invitation of Gen. Sherman to attend the Garfield memorial.

CANNON FIRED OUT.

After a session of about four hours on the Utah contested election case, the House Committee on elections adopted resolutions declaring that neither Campbell nor Cannon were entitled to the seat as delegate from Utah, and declaring the seat vacant.

APPROPRIATION BILL PASSED.

After some discussion the Senate passed the Immediate Appropriation bill, and then adjourned until Monday.

The Conkling Olive Branch.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 25.—The Globe-Democrat, referring to the appointment of Roscoe Conkling, says: "It will remove the most formidable pretext for division in the Republican party in New York, and pave the way to peace and harmony."

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Judge Lynch Gets in His Work—A Horrible Confession.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

MINERAL PARK, Feb. 23 (via Prescott, Feb. 25).—News has just reached the Alta Arizona office of a dreadful tragedy at Huckbury, thirty miles from this town. J. O. Weldon, a desperate character, on the 20th inst. shot and almost instantly killed, without any provocation, a good, peaceable citizen by the name of John Bullock. The citizens immediately rushed to the scene of the shooting and opened fire on Weldon, which he returned, slightly wounding Indian Agent Chas. Spencer. The citizens at length shot Weldon through the breast, and after his pistol was emptied he surrendered. He was held in custody by Deputy Sheriff Davis till the night of the 21st, when a party of fifteen men took him out and hung him to the beam of a blacksmith shop. Weldon declared publicly a few days ago that he was glad that Guiteau had killed Garfield.

ROBBERY AND MURDER.

CAREYVILLE, Ky., Feb. 25.—A horrible crime, committed January 28, 1881, has just been unearthed. James Braddon, on his death bed, confessed that he, with John and Wm. Whitingill, went that night to the house of Wiley Embry, chloroformed the inmates, robbed the house and set fire to it, and then ran away. Mrs. Embry and two children escaped. Embry and six children were burned to death.

A TERRIFIC CRASH.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 25.—At 2:30 this morning the five-story brick building on Second and Chrissy avenue, occupied by Kroft, Holmes & Co., wholesale grocers, fell in with a terrific crash and became one mass of ruins. A slight fire was immediately set in the debris, but the fire department easily extinguished it. The damage will reach about $15,000 or $20,000; loss on stock, $10,000 or $12,000.

RAILROAD RUMBLE.

Making Arrangements to Extend the A. & P. R. R.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, and St. Louis & San Francisco, which Companies control the Atlantic & Pacific, yesterday, at a meeting with the representatives of the Central and Southern Pacific at Boston, came to an agreement as to the extension of the Atlantic & Pacific road. The Atlantic & Pacific will call for a present subscription of four millions cash to finish and equip its road to the Colorado river; also one million, five hundred thousand dollars cash to build the central division of the A. & P. in the Indian Territory. The A. & P. does not bind itself not to go to San Francisco, but should the Southern Pacific build

EAST OF THE COLORADO RIVER,

And if the A. & P. joins that road there, it is agreed by the S. P. that it will guarantee to pay the A. & P. 25 per cent. of the gross earnings on through business. This is to be applied to the payment of interest on A. & P. bonds, should the earnings of the latter company not be sufficient for that purpose. The bonds are also guaranteed in the same way to the amount of 25 per cent. by the St. Louis & San Francisco Company; also 25 per cent. by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. This settlement adjusts satisfactorily difficulties which at one time threatened to become serious.

A CONSOLIDATION.

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—A traffic arrangement was made to-day between the S. P. and the A. T. & S. F. Co., securing the completion of the A. & P. and making the Southern route their main line.

Purely Sensational.

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 25.—Ex-Governor John M. Palmer to-day, in reference to the report that he had received a proposition from Tilden to become the candidate on the ticket with him for '84, said the report was purely sensational. The report, however, is generally believed here.

Action to Recover.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—The action begun by Attorney General Hart against the State Prison Directors to recover the money overdrawn by them from the State for traveling expenses, has now been set for March 6.

SHOT IN THE NECK.

Ex-District Attorney Murphy Shot by Officer Maroney.

THE WOUND BELIEVED TO BE FATAL.

Cause of the Affray—Maroney Attempts to Kill Himself—The Prisoner Interviewed—Murphy's Condition.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—The Dolliver case, being a charge of indecent exposure, has been on trial for several days in Police Court No. 2, and has been throughout characterized by much acrimony on the part of the counsel and witnesses. Last Monday ex-District Attorney D. J. Murphy, in his opening for the defense alluded to Police Officer John Maroney, the prosecuting witness in the case, as an Australian convict and thief. Maroney evidently brooded over this attack. About 11:20 this morning Murphy was standing near the dock in the court room, when Maroney entered. Pushing aside the officer standing near Murphy, he drew a pistol, and without a word fired. The ball struck Murphy in the right side of the neck, passing completely through. He fell to the floor, the blood spouting in jets over the bystanders, crying,

"I AM MURDERED FOR DOING MY DUTY!"

The greatest excitement ensued, and more than one cry of "Lynch him!" arose. Maroney was instantly seized by Sergeant Apgar and taken to the city prison. On the way he attempted to shoot himself, but Apgar prevented him, the ball passing through the latter's vest. Maroney was then disarmed and locked up. Murphy was taken to the prison hospital and medical attendance summoned. His wound is believed to be fatal. At the time that Murphy was addressing the jury and referring to Maroney in a most offensive manner, the latter became very excited and demonstrative. The history of the case has been peculiar. Dolliver, who is a man of advanced age and very wealthy, was accused of tampering with some dozen or more little girls. Maroney, who was the arresting officer, has had charge of procuring the witnesses and of generally forwarding the prosecution within his province. The defense has been backed by abundant means and every effort has been made to impeach the prosecution. A reporter, after the shooting,

INTERVIEWED MARONEY

In his cell. He was laboring under a degree of agitation bordering on insanity, and his remarks were fragmentary and almost incoherent. He exhibited little desire to speak, at length saying: "The public knows all about this case. It knows how I have been hounded by the defense for doing my duty. Every means has been used to draw me off and to break down my witnesses. I have been offered two thousand dollars to draw out; and I have two hundred dollars now in the hands of the authorities that were given to one of my witnesses to try to induce false swearing. I have been so worked up about this thing that I hardly knew what I was about. I was drinking some last night and again this morning." Being asked as to the immediate motive of the act, his utterance became incoherent and general in its nature.

CHIEF OF POLICE CROWLEY,

In many respects, corroborates Maroney's statements. He said that the latter was as straight and square a man as any he had on his force; that he had done his duty in the case, and that the manner in which he had been pursued for so doing was an outrage; that the stories regarding his having been a convict, a thief, etc., were all perfect nonsense, not a word of truth in them. He also mentioned attempts that had been made to corrupt Maroney and the witnesses. Without, of course, supporting in any way Maroney's rash course, he nevertheless seemed of the opinion that he had received extreme provocation.

MURPHY'S CONDITION.

Murphy was found in the receiving hospital lying on his back with a bandage on his neck, evidently suffering much, but in the full possession of his faculties. A belief is now expressed that the wound may not prove fatal, none of the principal blood vessels having been severed. The affair creates great excitement and comment is various, according to the familiarity of the speakers with the circumstances of the case, and their individual feelings.

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.

The River Still Rising—Partonia County Under Water.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 25.—The river continues to rise half an inch per hour. News from Pine Bluff reports the bank overflowing for forty miles below Adamsburg and for fourteen above. Pine Bluff is inundated and the whole of Partonia county is under water. Much destitution exists. Unless provisions are furnished, great suffering must follow.

A BIT OF ENCOURAGEMENT.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—Reports from up the river are encouraging. The levees are being greatly strengthened. The water is rising very slowly or receding. It is believed all danger is passed.

BREAK IN THE LEVEE.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., Feb. 25.—The levee broke to day and the city is inundated.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.

San Francisco's Joint Convention Whooping Up Miller's Bill.

passage from this place:

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—The Republican and Democratic County Committees and delegations from the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, Produce Exchange and Board of Brokers held a joint meeting this evening, Mr. Taber, President of the Board of Trade, presiding. The object is to make arrangements for a grand mass meeting, irrespective of party, to be held next Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of expressing the sentiment of the substantial business men of the community in favor of the anti-Chinese bill now pending in Congress. Business houses will be requested to close for the afternoon to enable all to be present. The two County Committees will request the committees of both parties in the several counties of the State to make arrangements for similar demonstrations at the same time throughout the interior.

Preparing for the Party.

WILCOX, A. T., Feb. 25.—Preparations for hanging Eskitska, Dandy Jim and Dead Shot, three Indian scouts who revolted at Cibicu are completed at Fort Grant. The execution is fixed for Friday next, March 3d.

Major Chaffee's Company, the Sixth Cavalry and Lieut. Von Shroders company of Indian scouts are ordered here for temporary duty, and will arrive to-morrow.

SAN DIEGO DOTTINGS.

[Union, Feb. 22.]

She San Diego river is said to be booming. The water is higher than it has been for some time. Lots of rain and snow melting in the mountains.

We are told that the corner stone for Masonic and Odd Fellows' Temple is en route per schooner for this port. The day for the ceremonies will be fixed soon.

The west end of the T of the steamship wharf is about completed. When the other wing is added that structure will be quite roomy.

The revival meetings continue at the M. E. Church with unabated interest. There will be services every evening this week. Rev. Dr. Dodge will preach to-night. All are cordially invited.

District Attorny Will M. Smith, of this city, received an offer yesterday from Creed Haymond, attorney of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, to confess judgment in the two tax cases now pending, entitled "San Diego county vs. Southern Pacific Railroad Company," for the sum of $67,600, costs and attorney's fees. As the amount is only about half what is due the offer was declined.

TERRITORIAL CLIPPINGS.

Here at Yuma, during the whole winter, garden vegetables continue growing, and our tables receive daily fresh supplies of radishes, turnips, cabbage, celery, etc. Such is an index to our climate.

Chirrapungi, a small Indian station in Southwestern Arizona, has a yearly rainfall of 493 inches—a little more than forty-one feet. Compare this with fifteen inches, the average fall for Los Angeles county.

THE LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES will be sold on all the trains of the Southern and Central Pacific Railroads; also on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and Texas & Pacific road.

THE TIMES office is connected with the telephone system of this city, and those desiring to advertise in or subscribe for this paper can do so by this means.

THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION.

George P. Fisher, a gentleman entirely unknown to the conductors of this paper, writes under the title above a very readable dissertation. It is presumably in reply to Ingersoll, but no mention is made of him. We have thought a few extracts from the article would be agreeable Sunday morning reading. He takes a very plain and what appears to us, common sense view of the whole subject of belief in God, in the immortality of the soul, and in the adaptedness to man's wants of a system of religion based upon the belief in the existence of God within ourselves and immediate surroundings. "He reveals Himself in the constitution of the human soul, a free intelligence, which cannot explain itself to itself by any material causes among which freedom has no place and intelligence does not exist. He reveals Himself in conscience, through which an imperative law is imposed on us which is superior to the human will and independent of it. He reveals Himself in the order and design which render science possible, and which bring home to the unperverted mind the conviction that the world is framed and sustained by an intelligent Creator. He reveals Himself in the course of history, in the working out of sects by the concurrence of numberless instruments, neither of whom comprehends the plan which he takes part in executing, and in the traces of a righteous government which, amid all the confusions of human affairs are clearly discerned, and which excite a rational presentment of a more complete manifestation of justice hereafter. Nothing can be more irrational than criticism of the justice and goodness of the First Cause of all things, for that there is a First Cause few reasoners are so unphilosophical as to call in question."

Of the aims and purposes of Christianity the writer presents the following truthful statement, which of itself is inducement enough to commend the principles of such a religion to all:

"Christianity seeks to mold society according to justice and love. It seeks to infuse into government and legislation the spirit of equity. It favors education and culture, because it values the human soul infinitely above every exterior good. It is friendly to art, for the love of beauty is allied to be the love of goodness. Whatever inventions and discoveries lighten the burden of labor, minister to the healing of the sick, and heighten the comforts of daily existence, are welcomed by the followers of Him who went about doing good. Christianity is not an ascetic system. The kingdom of God on earth is not a ghostly community, busied exclusively with religious exercises. It is humanity developed, trained, perfected on every side. Chistian virtue is no 'fugitive and cloistered virtue.' 'Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report,' Christians are exhorted to pay regard to. The comprehensive command of Christ is, 'Be ye perfect.' Perfection is reached in the disciples as in Christ, not by 'minding his own things,' but 'the things of others.' To live and labor for the world, without worldliness—that is, subordinating all material good to that which is spiritual, and walking by faith in things not seen—is a Christian's work.

Let a thoughtful man contemplate the prospects of mankind on the supposition that the Christian faith is to pass away. Civilization advances. Human science goes forward as far as it can in alleviating bodily pain. Provisions for living comfortably are multiplied in a degree at present incalculable, and are diffused abroad. Knowledge increases more and more. Wars come to an end. Governments become equitable and beneficient. Manners take on a finer quality. Conceive that such a progress of mankind is possible, apart from the purifying and restraining influence of religion—an expectation for which neither human nature nor experience affords the slightest warrant—what then? Are men who are thus advanced in the intellectual scale and in the affections of the heart to be satisfied with a merely mundane existence? Can they content themselves to live in this way, with no wider horizon, and then to pass out of being? Will they find a sufficient stimulus to labor for their race in the mere hope of rendering the earth a more comfortable abode for tenants who in swift succession rise into being and sink into the grave, as flowers blossom and the next day fall from their stem? The further civilization advances, were a sure advance practicable without the inspiration and the safeguards of religion, the more intolerable human life would become. Man would be less happy than the animals. The brutes have no thoughts or imaginations above the necessities of the hour; but man, with a nature too large to be satisfied with earthly good, is cut off from anything higher. The dignity of life, and its joy not less, are gone when there are no ties connecting this brief existence with a world unseen.

THE Santa Ana Standard has discontinued its semi-weekly edition on account of a press of work, until a power press can be procured. It will be issued as a weekly until that time. The Standard has shown true journalistic enterprise since its founding and the TIMES wishes it well for the future.

REMEDY FOR RAILWAY ABUSES.

Isaac L. Rice, in the North American Review for February, has a well written and exhaustive article on the subject of railway abuses, and suggesting a remedy therefor. His conclusion of the whole matter is to place the entire contract of railway transportation in the hands of the Federal government, and thus remedy the evils the people now complain of. The gentleman's remedy is the one that is just now the popular one, but it remains to be seen whether it will be adopted. To us there appears an impracticability in the plan in that the people are not yet prepared to vote it, and until they do so by a vote so overwhelmingly large that Congressmen will not dare to disregard the popular voice, no Congress can be found so regardful of the weal of the masses as to dare the opposition of the corporations. The representatives of wealth find legislators their willing tools, or find a way to make them so. And while the business of the country is prosperous and the people well employed and fed, they will not be likely to resist the influences of which the writer we quote complains. But when the impending commercial crisis shall stop construction of roads, the wheels of the machine shop stand still, and men clamor for labor and bread, possibly then the people will arise and put away the schemes and schemers that they now complain of. But when this day shall come the fear is that the revolution may be attended with violence—the use of force to regain possession of that which has been wrested from the people by forces of special legislation, combinations to extort unreasonable profits and discriminations, which he divides into three classes. First, the favoring of one or more centres of business against other centres; second, discriminations in favor of places where there is a competition between two or more railways to the detriment of places where one of the competing lines has a monopoly; and third, discriminations in favor of one or more individuals of a certain locality to the detriment of others in the same locality. The writer cites known cases of discrimination in favor of Boston and Philadelphia and Baltimore against New York, and in favor of Milwaukee to the detriment of Rochester; and illustrates cases in the third class where small dealers have to pay 40, 35, 25 to 20 cents per hundred, while the large dealer pays but 13 cents per hundred for all kinds of goods. Mr. Rice cites the case of the Standard Oil Company, in which the railroad combination agreed to protect the company against competition, and the result was the company acquired immense riches, at the cost of all other persons who had engaged in the oil trade. Again, the "Cattle Eveners' Pool," in which four great trunk lines leading to New York agreed upon dividing profits, and which enabled the Eveners to obtain a monopoly of the cattle business, to the ruin of all others. With these gross cases of of wrong before us the writer asks: "Is it a wonder the vague, despairing cry of anti-monopoly is heard everywhere on the face of the land? Would it be surprising if the dark streams of communism, which flow in the mother soil, were to be fed and swelled to formidable proportions?" The conservative men of the country are slow to join in the clamor against the rails, for to them we owe much of our growth and development, and they will be slower in joining in the un-American doctrine of centralization that finds its development in sinking the inventive, independent citizen into a piece of governmental machinery, with a soldier or guard standing constantly over him to dispute his God-given right of directing and controlling his own property. But to such an extent do the rails now control the destinies of the people of all classes, and so completely are they absorbing the wealth of the nation and dividing the country into the two classes of extremely rich and poor, that the conservative even are becoming alarmed and are asking if there are existing complaints, and if so what is the remedy therefor. The agitation is even now deep rooted, and it will be wise to consider the cause of it, and take timely measures to avert what may possibly be a disastrous uprising.

THE TELEPHONE.

The matter of extending the uses of the telephone is one which should engage the attention of the people to a greater degree than it has. This little machine works charmingly to all points in this city where the lines have been placed, the longest connections being six miles. This distance seems not to affect the transmitting of messages, as one hears almost as distinctly as when the communicants are but a few blocks distant. In the east the system has been extended in many places so as to connect all the adjacent towns in a radius of fifty miles and in many instances for a greater distance. This means of communication, aside from its cheapness is much more satisfactory than any other known, as it brings the correspondents mouth to mouth, and questions may be asked and explanations given which are impossible by other means of quick communication. This leads us to say that Los Angeles should extend the lines of her telephone system to the neighboring towns. To Downey, Anaheim, Westminister, Orange, Santa Ana, and eventually on down to San Diego. Another line should extend to Pasadena through San Marino to San Gabriel, through Sunny Slope to the Sierra Madre Villa. The port of Wilmington should also be connected, taking in Compton on the way. This is no experiment. It has been tried, and extended lines are now in operation, and with some system of repeating such as is in use by the telegraph company, or which may be perfected, the lines may be almost indefinitely extended. It was but a few weeks since that Mr. E. F. Spence while in San Diego, talked with persons in his own house in this city, telephonic connection having been made through the wires of the telegraph company. If once done it can be done again, and the utility of such a project for the accommodation of business between adjacent towns must commend itself to every one.

A GLORIOUS RAIN.

Nothing will express it so well as the title. It began at six o'clock last evening, and a gentle fall continues at this hour—3:30 A. M. It is the biggest rain of the season, and everything is galore.

SOME MORE CANDIDATES.

George T. Marye, Paul Neuman, Robert Ferral and Dr. May are spoken of as Congressional candidates in San Francisco.

Ex-Governor Downey is talked of for Railroad Commissioner from the Southern country, and George H. Rodgers from the San Francisco district.

Duncan McPherson, editor of the Santa Cruz Sentinel, is mentioned as a candidate for Senator from the counties of Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey.

B. R. Spillman, of Yolo, Henry Larkin, of El Dorado, Dave Trueman, of Livermore, and Joseph Cone, of Tehama, are all talked of for Railroad Commissioner in the northern district.

PHILADELPHIA will celebrate her bicentennial—the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of that city by Wm. Penn—in October next from the 24th to the 27th. It will be a grand affair, but the Philadelphians ought to be ashamed of themselves for allowing the main Exhibition building of the National Centennial to be sold at a terrible sacrifice and removed. Los Angeles would never have allowed such a thing. She has too much public spirit!

A TERRIBLE state of affairs has been developed in one of the departments of the Oakland public schools, revealing a startling condition of immorality among the older pupils. The matter was brought out by a valentine accidently dropped by one of the girls written by a fourteen-year-old boy. The Superintendent is investigating the affair.

GOVERNOR PERKINS has been engaged in lecturing through the northern portion of the State for some time for various charities local with the places in which they were delivered. Thursday evening he lectured in San Fancisco for the benefit of the Sigma Delta Societies' charities, his subject being, "Peabody the Philanthropist."

GARFIELD memorial services will be held in both Houses of the National Congress on Monday.

J. H. Stewart & Co., of New York City, will open a wholesale stock of tobacconists' supplies on Commercial street about the first of March.

Mr. Samuel Heilner, recently from Philadelphia, is perfecting arrangements for manufacturing brick by steam. The factory will be situated on Temple street.

The Religio-Philosophical Society meets as usual at Good Templars' Hall to-day. Discussion free on any question adopted by the meeting, commencing at 2:45 P. M.

P. Potts, one of the old and solid citizens of Tustin, and N. Vanderlip, a recent acquisition to that beautiful suberb of Santa Ana from Vallejo, were in town yesterday.

Heinsch on the corner of Los Angeles and Commercial streets which he will vacate when his new store on Main street is completed.

The enterprising lady managers of the Orphan's Home have secured an eligible site for the location of the Home, having purchased the old Binford homestead from Mr. G. E. F. E. Browne, H. T. Hazard, E. E. White and four or five others left yesterday morning on a two or three days' hunt between here and Wilmington. Brave Nimrods! may your shadows never be less, and do not forget the devil, or the light-weight of the TIMES after your peregrinations are over, but do not dare to palm off mud hens as ducks or the l. w. aforesaid will have his blood up, you know.

J. R. McManis of the Pacific Wagon Co. returned a few days ago from a successful trip to Bakersfield. He sold fifteen buggies and wagons during his brief stay there. He reports that the people of Bakersfield are not a bit crestfallen at their failure to secure the Atlantic & Pacific railroad. They feel assured that judging from the way railroads are grid-ironing Southern California Bakersfield will not be long without its complement of railroad connections.

Young Pico Caught.

Deputy Sheriff Berry came in town last night with Ramulfo Pico who was arrested about four months ago for horse stealing. He was examined and held to answer in the sum of $500. He succeeded in getting bail, but skipped the town two months ago. The officers had been after him since and Berry succeeded in getting him yesterday at or near Banning station. He is now in the county jail and will probably remain there until he has a trial.

Adjourned at eight o'clock.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Rev. S. K. Russell and wife will go up to San Francisco Tuesday per steamer Ancon to take up their abode in that city. Their numerous friends will be sorry to part company with them now, as they have endeared themselves to a large and ever increasing circle of acquaintances here.

Mr. Wm. Fessenden, now a resident of Pasadena, owner of the handsome little place which he recently purchased of the Mueller brothers, made the TIMES a pleasant call yesterday. Mr. Fessenden is of a celebrated and historic family, and a very pleasant gentleman.

Mr. Faylor, the agent for "The Prince and the Pauper," Mark Twain's last book, is meeting with good success in canvassing for it in this city. The work is an interesting one, and should be in many more libraries.

W. A. Henderson of this city has just received a letter stating that J. J. Abbott of San Luis Obispo, President of the Southwestern Ice Company, lies in a very critical state, beyond hope of recovery.

Rev. C. J. Hutchins's term expires today but he will probably continue to fill the pulpit of the Congregational Church for some months yet.

T. C. Hull, the efficient Postmaster of Westminster, and C. A. Blackman, a disciple of Vulcan in the same district, were in town yesterday.

W. H. Thomas, a new comer from Marshalltown, Iowa, has purchased the employment business of W. D. Mack, No. 2 Temple street.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Fletcher of Orange were in the city yesterday.

L. Gildmacher and wife of Santa Ana were in town yesterday.

Rev. C. F. Loop of Pomona was in the city yesterday.

AMONG THE BUILDERS.

The Normal School—Presbyterian Church—Other Buildings.

The walls of the Normal School building are creeping up rapidly, and are now nearly completed to the top of the second story windows. The weather has been very favorable for prosecuting the work.

The Presbyterian church begins to assume shape. The foundation walls are all laid and the uprights and siding nearly completed for half the circumference of the building. Should the weather continue dry for two weeks, (which we devoutly pray may not be the case) the outlines of the structure will be up, and its proportions seen and appreciated.

The Rose and Ferguson stable on Main street is nearing completion, and the good points of the establishment begin to be visible. It will be a first-class stable in all particulars, there being all the conveniences that can be suggested for readily handling business and caring for stock. Among the contrivances for saving labor is an elevator for disposing of carriages by lowering them into the basement room. Harness rooms, closets and lodging rooms for employes are also noticeable objects, for their good appointments.

The block of Messrs. Kurtz and Heinsch, also on Main street, is nearly ready for occupancy. It has an imposing cornice on its front which adds much to the appearance of the building.

SLOW.

How a Westminster Man Takes a Ride.

A gentleman from Westminster was in town on a jam night before last and got tired near midnight. He happened to be on Wilmington street at the time and noticing a buggy near at hand he got in and went to sleep. In a few minutes a police officer came along and awakened his lordship.

"What are you doing here?" asked the officer.

"Wonzer if Iz'e—hic—onze right road—hic—for Westminster?" He replied, bracing up.

"I guess you are, but this buggy is for sale and has been standing here for six months."

"Take me to the—hic—hotel."

The policeman was kind-hearted and took him to a bed.

The Standard Kicks.

ALTHOUGH the Standard issued four hundred "extras" and mailed them on Friday morning to all the local papers in the county, so that they could have the benefit of our enterprise, yet, with the exception of the Los Angeles Herald, none of them, in their Saturday papers—supposed to contain all the local news up to a late hour Friday night and early Saturday morning—have mentioned the receipt of the "extra," and publish mere rumors in regard to the tragedy.—Santa Ana Standard.

Friend Harris, the TIMES was slighted, and now it is in order for you to explain. But one copy of the "extra" was received at this office and our proportion of that four hundred would have been at least fifty. We want to know the occasion of the slight. Besides, we had a full special report telegraphed to the TIMES from a reliable gentleman, which was published about twelve hours previous to the receipt of the "extra," hence your generosity—for which accept our thanks—was not taken advantage of.

The Excursionists.

The American Colony excursionists took carriages yesterday and visited San Gabriel, Sierra Madre Villa, Pasadena, and all the country northeast of Los Angeles. We learn that the ladies and gentlemen of the party, without exception, declare this country indescribably beautiful. They never believed what has been written and pictured forth of this country, and now they believe it less than ever, for not half the truth has been told. The excursionists will to-morrow visit the site of the projected American Colony, fronting on the San Pedro Bay, on the Los Cerritos Rancho, twenty miles south of Los Angeles. The party will go by carriages, and return the same evening.

An Extensive Business.

The old reliable house of Harper, Reynolds & Co. are now fully supplied with all lines of goods necessary to furnish the retail or wholesale trade. They purchase in large quantities and buy on equal terms with San Francisco and Sacramento houses, as evidenced in the fact that they have five car loads of nails, sheet iron and general hardware now on the road from the East via the Southern route, and three more cars have just been ordered. This gives them an unquestionable advantage, hence the trade throughout Southern California will find it policy to call and examine their stock and prices before purchasing any more in the northern part of the State. See advertisement in "New To-Day."

A General Regret.

It is generally regretted that Mr. Rivera has concluded to build his Main street block only one story in height. Surely it would pay handsomely from a pecuniary point of view, judging from the fact that a great demand exists for desirable rooms and offices, especially in that vicinity. A feeling of pride in the appearance of our business blocks should also exercise some influence on the mind of every capitalist or business man interested in the city's welfare. It is to be hoped that Mr. Rivera will re-consider the matter and conclude to build a two story block at least.

Rain Twenty Years Ago.

Twenty years ago yesterday fell on Wednesday. Los Angeles had not suffered for the want of rain from what the Semi-Weekly Southern News says. It reads:

"This subject is pretty well worn out, but still we have to chronicle the fact that it rained Saturday, Sunday and Monday last, at intervals, and indications are not favorable to settled weather as yet."

Hope the TIMES will be able to say the same a week from date.

A Narrow Escape.

Mrs. Gould, the venerable mother of Will D. Gould, had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon. When entering a buggy in front of Harper, Reynolds & Co.'s store on Los Angeles street, the horse became frightened at something and started on a run down Aliso street, but a gentleman fortunately succeeded in stopping the horse before it had gone a block, with no serious results further than the old lady being frightened considerably.

Elder W. Healey will preach at the Adventist Church on Sixth street at 7 P. M. to-day.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A Jolly Pasadena Crowd Visit Wilson's Canyon.

"HELEN'S BABIES" ON HORSEBACK.

Important to Wool Handlers—How to Avoid the Wool Sorters' Disease—A Never Failing Remedy.

A very pleasant and long to be remembered horseback ride was indulged in by about twenty of the young people of Pasadena on Wednesday last. After about an hour's ride through the colony, visiting many of the fine places, the party proceeded to Wilson's canyon, where, dismounting, some two or three hours were spent in lunching, music, games, etc., for a pastime. The ladies each wore a tyrolean trumpet suspended from their shoulders by various colored ribbon, while the gentlemen were provided with tallyho! horns of various sizes. Quite prominent among those present were "Helen's Babies," they having increased in number somewhat since the last census. Report has it that seven of them caught several colds, owing to the scarcity of wearing apparel. Great credit is due to Mr. L. S. Bondy, a New Yorker, who is spending his winter with us, and Mr. Geo. Horn, a Chicagoan, for the efficient manner in which the days' sport was not only planned but carried out. May their stay among us be a long one. Thanks are extended to the ladies for the fine lunch provided by them. Among those present were the Misses Libby Childs, Florence Royce, A. Freeman, J. Hurlburt, Jessie Banbury, Jennie Banbury, Freze, Nellie Jones, Morrison; Messrs. L. S. Bundy, G. Horn, B. E. Ward, C. Bell, W. Holmes, A. Clapp, J. Ross, H Lightfoot, W. H. Wakeby.

W. E. B.

The fatal diseases attendant upon the handling of wool could be almost wholly avoided if the process of wool washing as recommended in the TIMES a few days ago was adopted. The frequent handling of unclean wool produces what is called "wool sorter's disease," which almost without exception terminates fatally, as in the recent death of E. Naud of this city. The disease is caused by a small microscopic animal called "bacilli." By heating and boiling the wool in water at a temperature of from 120° to 150° Fahrenheit and adding carbolic acid or some other antiseptic acid, the animal is effectually destroyed and the wool can be handled without fear of injurious results. D.

Better Street Facilities Wanted.

East Los Angeles continues to experience a boom in building operations. At the present rate it will not be long before that part of the city will be as densely populated as this side. The extension of Buena Vista street to the river should be made without delay, thus giving the residents of East Los Angeles and the country beyond, an opportunity of coming to town without running the gauntlet of the constantly increasing stream of locomotives, and cars flying to and fro in the vicinity of the depot, thereby incurring a great risk to life and limb. The attention of the City Council is called to this matter. It is an urgent need.

The Benefit.

Los Angeles county is now deriving great benefit through the opening of the Southern road, from the fact that many people on their way to the northern part of the State stop over and inspect this vicinity, with the result of many new and very desirable acquisitions to its settlers, who remark—"this is good enough for me; hence I will let good enough alone." When the northern part of the State had everything its own way the drippings that Los Angeles received were like Pat's shillings, "few and far between." The probability is that the shoe will now be on the other foot.

Going Back.

F. T. Hoblit has sold his fine residence on Hill street to Geo. W. Peachy. Mr. Hoblit's friends and acquaintances in this vicinity will regret to hear that he has determined upon returning to his old home in Illinois, where business interests demand his attention. It is to be hoped that circumstances will be so fortuitous as to enable him to return in the near future. Such is the sentiment of the whole community.

A BALLADINE.

She was the prettiest girl, I ween,
That mortal eyes had ever seen;
Her name is Annabel Christine,
Her bangs were curled with bandoline,
Her cheeks were smoothed with vaseline,
Her teeth were brushed with fine dentine,
Her face was washed with coaline,
Her gloves were cleaned with gasoline,
She wore a dress of grenadine,
Looped over a skirt of brilliantine;
Her petticoat was bombazine,
Her footsteps shod with a kid bottine,
Her wounds were healed with cosmoline,
She sailed away from Muscatine,
In a ship they called a brigantine;
She flirted with a gay marine
Till they reached th' republic Argentine,
Where they were married by the Dean,
And lived on oleomargarine.

A ONE HALF INTEREST IN THE

Horne & West

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC BELT.

THIS IS THE same belt which is now manufactured by W. J. Horne, and which he is extensively advertising as the W. J. HORNE BELT. This Belt was invented and patented by myself. Afterward I assigned one half interest in this Belt to W. J. Horne, which he now owns in common with me. This Belt has taken two premiums at State Fairs; but as I have invented another BELT, of double the power of the HORNE & WEST BELT, and much superior to it in every respect, and which I make and sell for ONE HALF the cost of the old Horne & West Belt, I will sell my one-half interest, in the Horne and West Belt cheap for cash.
